SPENCER/LEE CHAPLAINCY SCHOLARSHIP

For many years, chaplains have been some of the Church of the Nazarene's most effective missional leaders. They serve in over 60 different work settings, including health care, correctional facilities, business/industrial communities, and the military. Through their dedicated service, thousands come to know Christ each year, receive spiritual care, discipleship, and help in times of crisis.

AN EXTENSION OF THE CHURCH

Chaplains extend the ministry of the Church of the Nazarene far beyond its normal boundaries. Because they are employed by agencies outside the general, district, and local church, they are given the opportunity to minister in places that are usually “off limits” to pastors and missionaries. The first-century apostles, who were persecuted everywhere for proclaiming Christ, could never have envisioned the open doors of opportunity afforded to chaplains today. Chaplains are warmly invited to minister to millions at places of work and relaxation.

OUR CHAPLAINS' MISSIONAL LEGACY CONTINUES

Chaplain Gilbert Spencer was killed in World War II, and Chaplain Byron Lee lost his life in the Korean War. Both were defending our sacred freedoms at the time of their death.

In thoughtful remembrance of Chaplains Spencer and Lee, Chaplain Curt Bowers in 1989 established the Spencer/Lee Chaplaincy Scholarship Fund to help prepare students at Nazarene Theological Seminary for this challenging and exciting ministry. Although the fund has been named in their honor, you may choose to contribute in the name of someone else. Your gift may commemorate a loved one or friend.

While creating a thoughtful remembrance, this scholarship fund furthers the cause of Christ by investing in Nazarene Theological Seminary students called to full-time chaplaincy. Due to increased educational costs, many of our students at NTS are graduating with a substantial educational debt. Yearly interest payments from the Spencer/Lee Chaplaincy Scholarship Fund are used to help God-called seminarians defray some of these educational expenses.

A memorial certificate, suitable for framing, is available upon request.
