

Committee on the Interests of the God-Called Evangelist (2005-2009 Manual – 339)

The Committee on the Interests of the God-Called Evangelist was established after the 1989 General Assembly. Dr. Jerald D. Johnson appointed this Committee to address the needs and concerns of the evangelist.

The Committee on the Interest of the God-Called Evangelist shall be composed of the revivalism coordinator, who shall be ex officio chairman of the committee, plus four tenured evangelists and one pastor. The revivalism coordinator shall submit a list of nominees for the committee to the Board of General Superintendents for approval and appointment. The committee or its designee shall personally interview commissioned evangelists who have been recommended by their respective district assemblies for “tenured evangelist” status (408.3). It shall also review the state of itinerant evangelism in the Church of the Nazarene and make recommendations concerning both revivals and evangelists to the appropriate department of the General Board.
